

CONTENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

14BCE009

ABSTRACT

As a part of curriculum I am Creating a blog on the latest mobile phones with full specs, pricing, comparison with other phones , the launch dates of new phones, newest features to be added, the phone sale countdowns and anything and everything about phone world. Share, like and follow knowyourphoneweb.wordpress.com .This is a part of Content Management System, to manage the content and present it.

CONTENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

A content management system or CMS is a software that facilitates creating, editing, organizing, and publishing content. WordPress is a Content Management System, that allows you to create and publish your content on the web. Although it is mostly used for web publishing, it can be used to manage content on an intranet, or in a single computer.

WordPress allows users to have full control over the files, documents, as well as the design and display of the content. You don't have to know a single line of code to publish content using WordPress. The beauty of a good content management system is to allow any user to create and manage their content without any technical know-how.

About Blog

Fig:The homepage

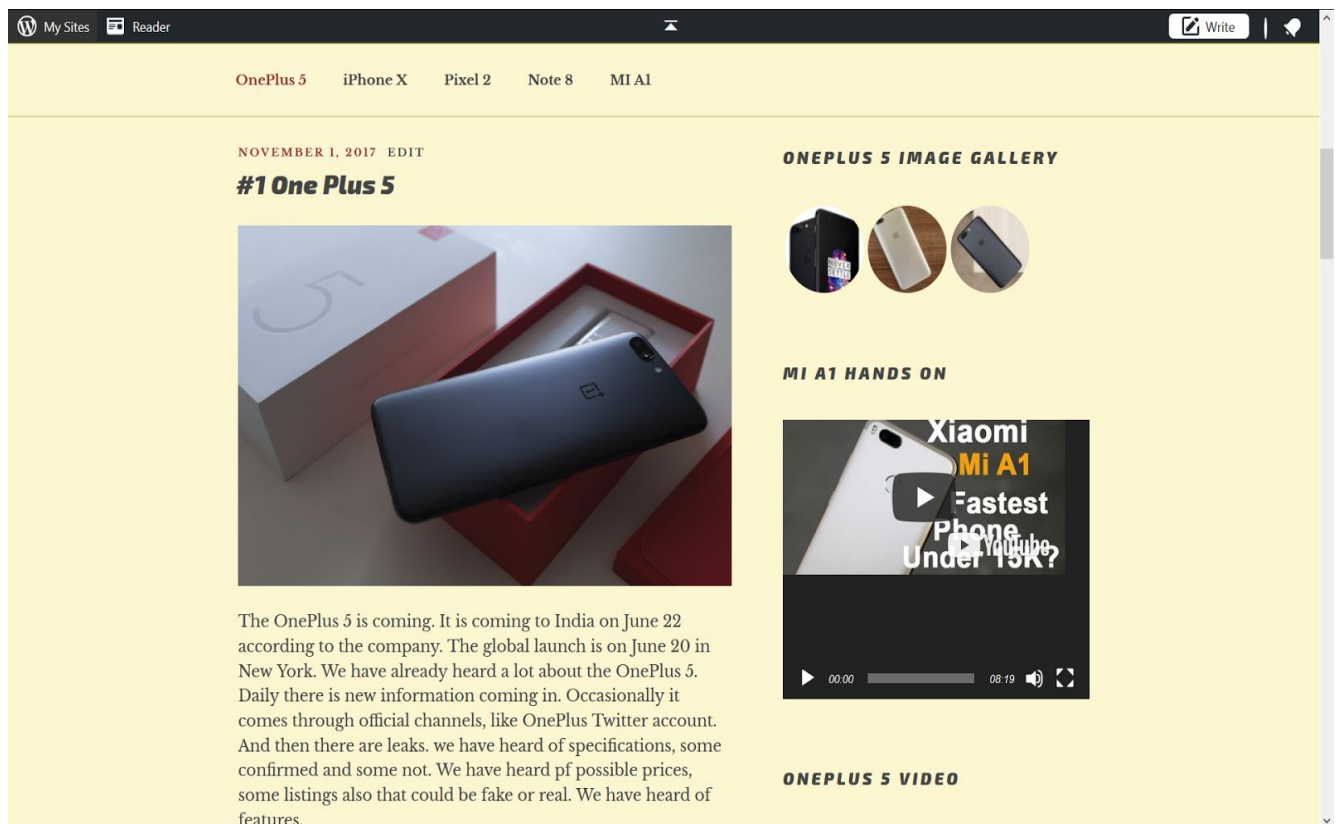

Fig: Page of the blog, with widgets like image gallery, video screen

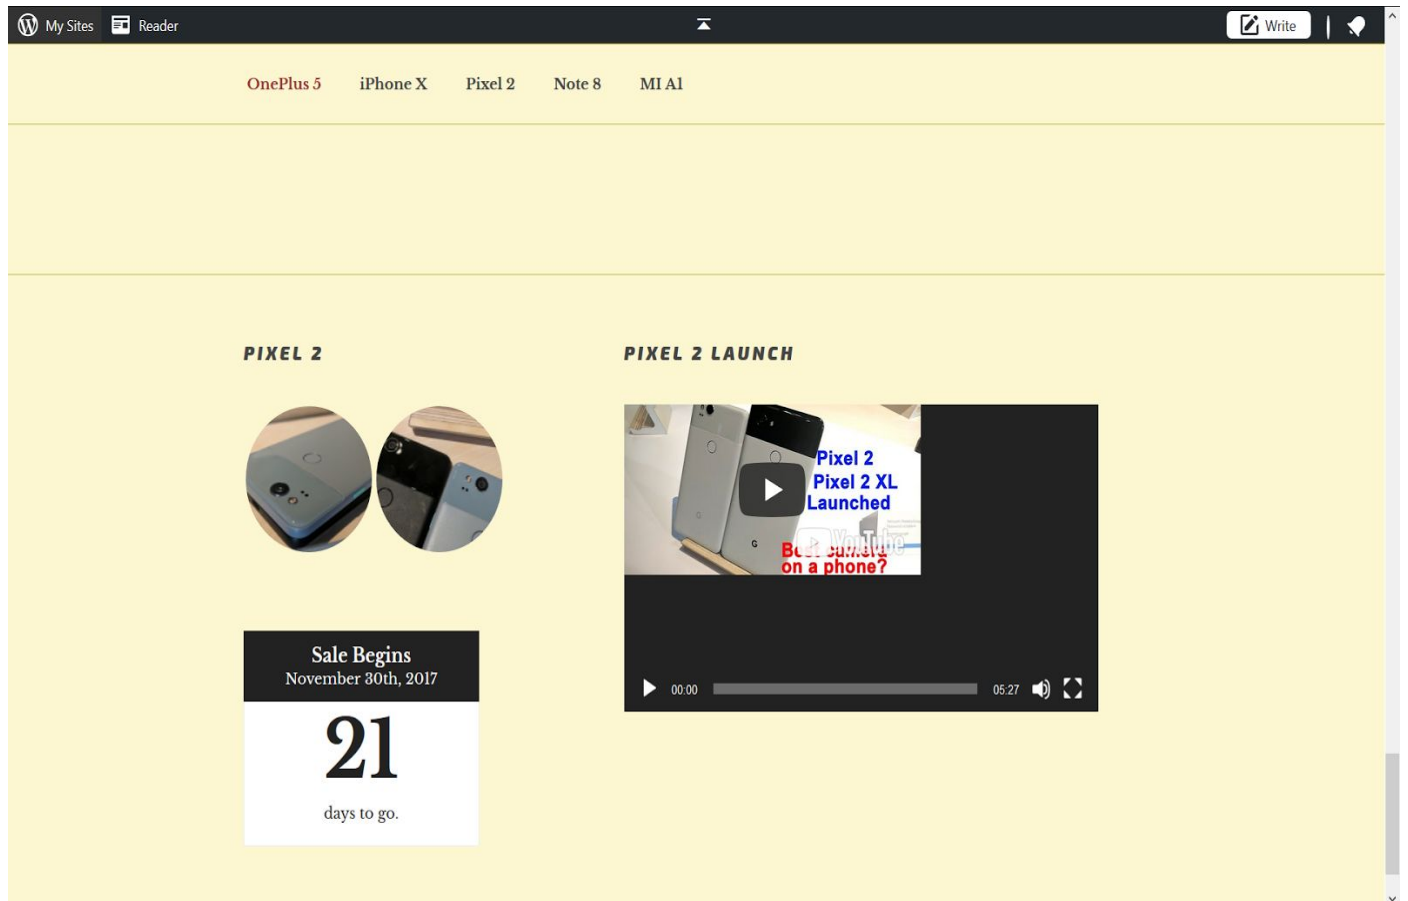

Fig: Footer

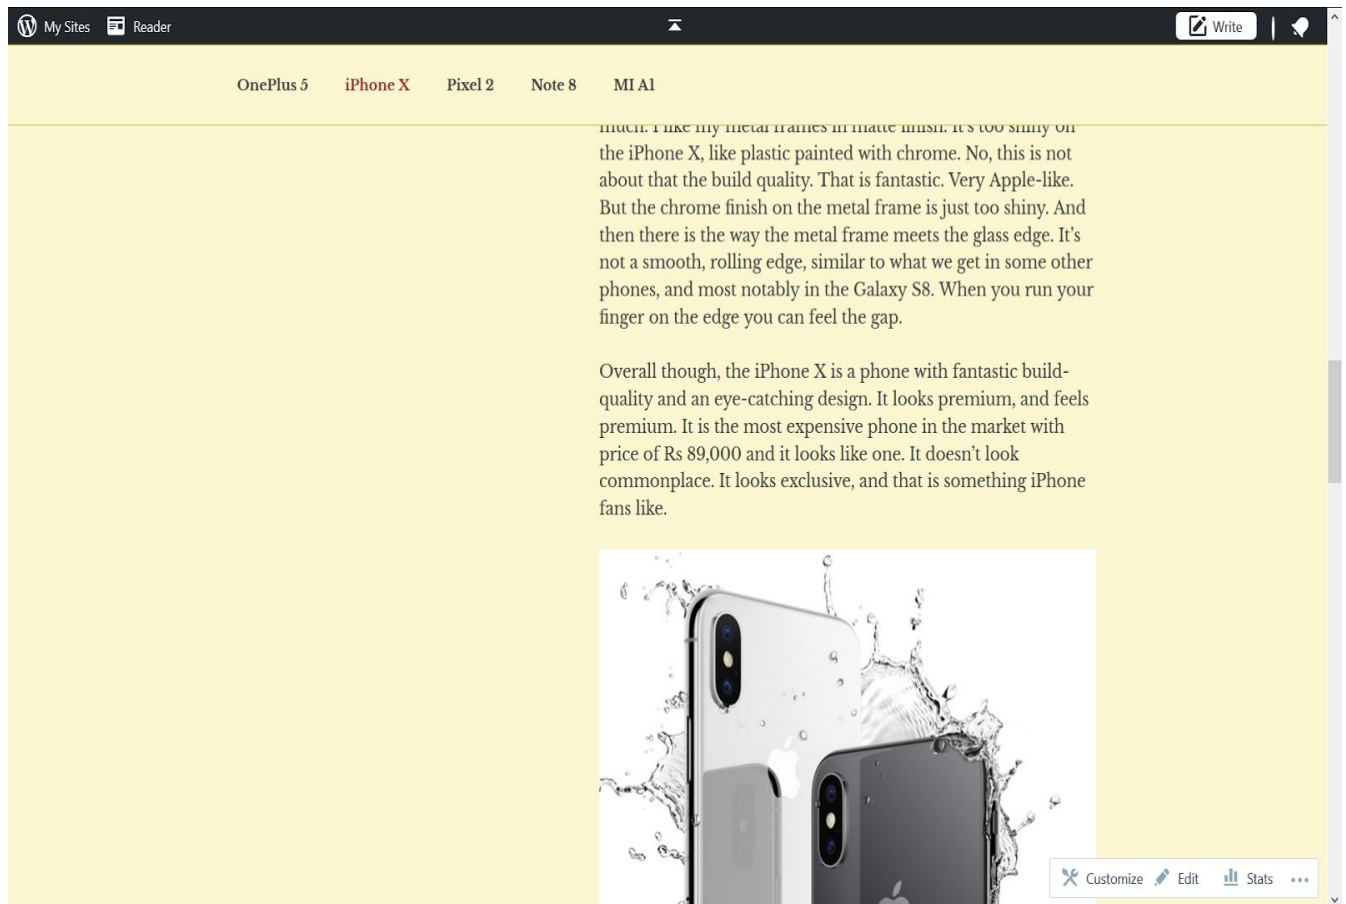

Fig: Sample content

Fig: Sample Pages

CONCLUSION

By this we learnt how to manage content with help of content management systems available. This system is also useful in enterprise content management.